To show what the Arkansas Highway Department does with your money a film entitled "Arkansas Roads, Your Investment" was shown at the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at the weekly luncheon meeting in the Town and Country.

Rotarian John Tallant, who is the local district engineer, told the club that all of 1-30 will be completed in the very near future. He presented Mrs. Mary Day Herndon of the state headquarters, who showed the excellent film, in color, of highway and road construction in our state.

Albert Graves formally inducted Jesse Duckett into the club and presented him the 4-way test of Rotary and a Rotary pin. Frank Key of Lewisville was a visiting Rotarian. Other guests were Mrs. Sharon Bailey of the district engineer's office and Bill Hughes of Columbus. President C.R. "Dick" Moore presided over the business meeting and welcomed all in attendance.

tion so far.

The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund has told the court, "The goal required by the Constitution is that every black child, at every grade in his educational career, must be free of assignment to a 'black' ... school."

The Mobile board questions this. It asked the court in its brief: "Does the mere existence of a school with a student body made up of students all of one race, in a public school system that is otherwise completely integrated and unitary, render the school system constitutionally deficient?"

The government, reflecting President Nixon's stated preference for neighborhood schools, told the court "it does not require, as an a priori constitutional standard, racial balance or integration of every all-white, all-Negro or predominantly Negro school."

In addition to Clarke County, the hearing centers also on a North Carolina antibusing law declared unconstitutional by a three-judge federal court in Charlotte.

The law forbids assignment of students by race to create racial balance and prohibits "involuntary busing" as well as the use of public funds for such busing.

No Ruling on Barring of Homosexuals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined today to rule on the power of officials to close down homosexual bars.

The court turned down an appeal from Corlon C. Keller, a Huntington Beach, Calif., tavern owner whose beer license was revoked because he served homosexuals.

Keller, in an appeal, said the state law was unconstitutional in that it infringes on his customers' rights of free speech and association.

The state law prohibits the keeping of "any disorderly house or place...to which people resort for purposes which are injurious to the public morals."

U.S. Court to Review Obscenity Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review a federal law that prohibits the import of any obscene book, advertisement, photograph or drawing from abroad.

The law was declared unconstitutional last January by a three-judge federal court in Los Angeles. The Justice Department appealed to the Supreme Court in April for review.

A hearing will be held later this term with a decision expected by next June.

The law was challenged successfully by Milton Lueros, a Los Angeles dealer, who won recovery of 37 photographs seized by customs agents in October 1969. Lueros, returning from Europe, planned to use some or all of the photos in a hard cover edition of a book that describes sexual positions.

be trimmed from the American force. Combat divisions are now being positioned in the interior of South Vietnam for the next phases of Nixon's withdrawal program.

The U.S. Command released an official weekly military strength summary today that said 384,600 American troops were in the country. But "departures since that date including Army and Marine units have reduced the total strength below the Oct. 15 ceiling of 384,000," a spokesman said.

During the past 24 hours, units leaving Vietnam included detachments from the 7th and 11th Marine Regiments, the 3rd Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division, the 199th Infantry Brigade and the 2nd Squadron, 1st Cavalry.

Headquarters said American strength in Vietnam was at its lowest since Dec. 24, 1966, when there were 376,400 U.S. troops in the battle zone.

The strength summary gave this breakdown as of last Thursday: Army 292,300; Navy 18,700; Marines 27,600; Air Force 45,900, and Coast Guard 100. This does not include about 22,500 Navy men of the 7th Fleet and 600 Coast Guardsmen aboard ships operating off the coast of Vietnam.

Pan Handlers cook better electrically.

Pan Handlers never fly off the handle with an electric range. That's understandable, because an electric range keeps the kitchen cooler and the pans cleaner. It's cleaner because it's flameless. It's cooler because it cooks the food, not the air around it. And it's economical, too, only pennies a day. Jewels Taken From Actress Sophia Loren

NEW YORK (AP) — An armed gang forced its way into the 22nd-floor apartment suite of film star Sophia Loren Sunday and robbed her of jewelry reported to be worth $600,000.

"I was shaking," Miss Loren told newsmen hours after the 7:30 a.m. robbery. "They came into the bedroom you know while I was asleep."

One of the gang "had a big moustache and kept saying, 'Give me the big stuff! Give me the big stuff!'" she recalled.

Minutes after the four-man gang entered the Hampshire House and handcuffed four employees, they had collected the jewelry and strolled back out the front door to escape.

With them went the Italian star's personal, uninsured jewelry that she valued at $500,000 and a reported $100,000 worth of insured jewelry on loan from Van Cleef & Arpels.

Six hours later two teen-aged brothers found part of the loot in a brown paper bag along a curb in West New York, N.J.

Two months ago jewels reportedly worth $600,000 were taken from actress Zsa Zsa Gabor in an elevator at the Waldorf Towers. Police said they were investigating to determine if the crimes were linked.

Police gave this account of the Loren robbery: The four gunmen, one dressed as a chauffeur, entered the lobby of the luxury cooperative apartment house on Central Park South about 7:15 a.m. and at gunpoint demanded the keys to Miss Loren's suite.

Four employees were handcuffed and the night manager and a bell captain were ordered to go to Miss Loren's apartment with two of the gang. There they rang the bell and said they were checking a gas leak.

Inez Bruscia, 41, secretary to Miss Loren, answered the door but became suspicious, screamed and tried to slam the door. The men pushed past her and one struck her on the head with his gun.

One man entered the bedroom and took the jewelry after twisting Miss Loren's hair to show he meant business.

Miss Loren, who had been here for about a month to publicize her new movie, "Sunflower," had planned to leave today but her plans were now said to be uncertain.

Carlo Ponti, her husband, was in Milan, Italy, where he had gone for his father's funeral. He said the death and the robbery made Sunday "the most tragic day of my life."

Miss Loren went to police headquarters Sunday night and spent 2½ hours looking at photographs of known criminals but said she recognized none.

She told newsmen she did not hold the robbery against New York.

"New York can't be judged by one act of crime," she said, "because criminality exists all over the world."

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

LET'S HEAR IT FOR COCKTAIL WAITRESSES

Dear Helen: A recent letter to your column seemed to put down cocktail waitresses. The writer, RJP, said his "sweet young wife" became a cold, insensitive money-chaser after she started work in a nightclub.

As a cocktail waitress who is supporting four young children and also putting herself through college, I resent this implication!

In fact, my ex-husband, like RJP, attended college while I worked and cared for the kids. He had a ball—the carefree older man all the little eager undergrads adored.

I got tired of underwriting his affairs, and told him to go. Maybe that makes me cruel and mercenary, but I don't see these traits in me or my fellow workers. We're proud of being able to do cocktails and be good at it. I've noticed that most of us seem more human and kind-hearted than are women in other jobs. Many of us are working nights because we are daytime housewives and mothers—or we're going to school. The work doesn't "harden" us, and we aren't easy marks.

On the other hand, I meet a lot of married college men who are like my ex—a gal has to bat them off with a sledge hammer. Even then, they think she is just "leading them on." It appears that college is the place for married wolves these days. They figure the pickings are easy.

Maybe wonderful, misunderstood RJP is leaving out a big part of his story—which may have a lot to do with his innocent little wife's waking up! —F.L. Dear F.:

But only Mr. RJP and his wife will ever know for sure—and neither will agree with the other's version of the story.

P.S. I agree: Most cocktail waitresses are nice people. Now, how about agreeing with ME that the majority of married college men aren't wolves? —H.

Dear Helen: What do you do with an amorous mother-in-law?

My wife's mother "accepts" me. For this I was grateful—at first. Now I'm scared to be alone with her.

She never misses a chance to tell me how misunderstood she is, how her husband neglects her. There is only about 10 years' difference in our ages. She is not exactly the "motherly" type, being somewhat jealous of my wife.

I know a woman on the make when I see one, and she's it! I can't always avoid her. Because we live close by, we are expected to have frequent get-togethers. She's the type who if I tell her off would twist it around so I'd look like the aggressor. But if I don't, she'll keep on breathing heavy in my ear. And she could be mighty persuasive. . . . to any other man.

This isn't something you discuss with your wife or your

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Warriors of the diamond and the gridiron were the stars of television over the weekend, to the joy of millions of sportswatchers and to the dismay, perhaps, of campaigning politicians.

With NBC's coverage of the baseball World Series dominating the schedules Saturday and Sunday and with the usual assortment of football games on the three major networks, the politicians had rough going.

Television politicking now is in an intense phase with invitations to appear on network and local interview programs pearls of great price. Sports events disrupt normal programming and it is hard to attract a big audience when the competition is a live, big league sports event on another channel.

The last of the season's new series made its delayed debut Saturday night, ABC's "The Most Deadly Game." This is a series that proposes to have a team of criminologists solve a murder a week. The premiere program seemed to be almost a spoof, like Batman.

Ralph Bellamy plays the senior member of the team, the wise armchair detective dedicated to logic. George Maharis is the younger, active investigator. There is a girl, played by Yvette Mimieux, around but she didn't have much to do in the first show.

The case started with a corpse with a hole in his skull. This caused consternation until Mr. Arcane—the campy name of the brainy detective—deduced that death was caused by a sling shot. The end of the program showed Maharis being pursued through a swamp by a fanatical conservationist until he was almost swallowed by quicksand.

Since this is no year in which to make a conservationist a villain, it turned out the real killer was a man with a simple financial interest in homicide. At the end, Bellamy, in a freshly pressed suit, confronted Maharis, just out of the quicksand pit, and casually announced he had stopped by to pick up the killer.

"You mean," said Maharis, breathing heavily and showing mild outrage, "that you sat home comfortably in your chair and figured this out while I was caught in quicksand?"

It was simply logic, Bellamy explained, and all three laughed merrily the way people always do at the end of mystery shows.

The real mystery of the season may be how "The Most Deadly Game" ever got on the air. It is headed up, however, by three of television's most distinguished practitioners. Joan Harrison, the producer, worked for many years with Alfred Hitchcock. Writers and creators David Friedkin and Morton Fine are writers with superb credits. What they have come up with consists of a bunch of cliché characters in a preposterous situation.

Salamanders have been known to live for 60 years in captivity and toads for 36 years, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

THESE ARE EMBLEMS WE CAN USE BECAUSE WE "MEASURE UP"

Ever hear of an outfit that identifies itself with a corporate symbol that belongs to someone else? Well, we do just that!

The BLUE CROSS®, you see, is actually an emblem that belongs to the American Hospital Association. The BLUE SHIELD® belongs to the National Association of Blue Shield Plans. And we can use these emblems only as long as we measure up to the rigid standards of service these Associations demand. And their standards are much more demanding than those imposed by any governmental agency.

A one-time thing? Not on your life. Our performance is re-evaluated every year. Keeps us on our toes. Keeps you receiving the kind of service only Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans can provide. Last year, for instance, we returned over 94¢ of every dollar of dues we received to our members in the form of health care services.

If the health care plan you're counting on to help pay your bills is identified by the famous "BLUE CROSS®" and "BLUE SHIELD®", you've got the closest regulated, best managed, and most efficient plan looking after you.

And that's nice to know!

B Boys Go to Prescott Tonight

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Scoring all their points in the first half of play, the Hope Bobcats hung on for a 21-13 victory against the Crossett Eagles last Friday, in Crossett.

The Bobcats now own a 5-1 season record with a 3-0 conference standing, keeping them tied for first place in the 4-AA West race. Crossett's record dipped to 3-3 for the season.

Hope, without their band and Bobettes able to make the trip, displayed a fine game of explosive running power before a larger crowd of hometown fans than was expected.

Winning the toss, the Bobcats elected to receive the ball and when they did, things moved. Running the wishbone, quarterback Ronnie Massanelli directed beautiful scoring drives of 68, 29, and 60 yards, with the offensive line opening large holes for the backfield to pick up good yardage.

On the first possession, Hope took eleven plays to score, with the last 15 yards being covered by Roger Newton around right end with 7:49 left in the opening period. Tim White's extra point was good, for a 7-0 Hope lead.

Holding the Eagles at bay, Newton returned the Crossett punt 26 yards to the opponent 29. Four plays put the pigskin on the one, and Gary Wheelington hit off tackle for the second score with 6:04 left in the first period.

Whites' second extra point attempt split the uprights and Hope possessed a 14-0 lead, scoring both TD's in less than two minutes.

Both teams played on even terms for the next 15 minutes, until Hope got possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line with 5:10 left in the first half. Using three first downs, the Bobcats drove to the Eagle three, on the running of Newton and Ray Wheelington.

Powering his way off tackle, Gary Don Jones used his blocking to ramble into the end zone with only 25 seconds left in the first half. White then split the uprights for the third time to give Hope a 21-0 halftime lead.

Crossett came out in the second half recharged and stormed back for two touchdowns, the first on the running of Bubba Lovett. The second score came on a 28 yard TD pass to Frank Carter with 2:45 left in the game.

Relying on the running of Jones and Wheelington, Hope put on a drive to the Eagle 12 to run out the clock and preserve the victory, spoiling Crossett's homecoming.

Outstanding on defense were Clifton Peavy and Steve Harris, who were in on numerous tackles following the ball everywhere.

The Hope B-team resumes play tonight, traveling to Prescott for a 7:30 p.m. game. The B-Bruins are 2-1 for the season after an impressive 14-6 win over the tough Texarkana Tigers last week.

Porkers in 41-7 Win Over Baylor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks' extended their winning streak to four games Saturday night with a 41-7 victory over the Baylor Bears.

Baylor did not get on the scoreboard until halfway through the final period when quarterback Si Southall, facing a fourth down on the Arkansas 10, found Don Huggins in the end zone.

"We just seemed to run three plays and punt," Southall said. "You can't win when you let your defense play 40 minutes of the ball game."

Bobby Field, the Razorbacks' monster man, picked off a Baylor pass late in the second quarter that set up Arkansas' first touchdown.

Until Fields' interception, Arkansas was nursing a 6-0 lead. His 43-yard return set the Razorbacks up on the Bears' 28, and nine plays later Bill Burnett scored the first of his two touchdowns.

The Razorbacks all but sewed up the victory when they took the second half kickoff and drove 71 yards for a 21-0 lead.

"Our defense can be praised on that drive for hard-nosed football," Coach Frank Broyles said.

Only twice during the drive were the Razorbacks confronted with a third down situation. On third and four at the Arkansas 35, quarterback Bill Montgomery flipped a 12-yard pass to tight end Pat Morrison. On the other third down play, Burnett blasted two yards over the right side of the offensive line for his 47th touchdown as a Razorback.

Broyles said Baylor was determined to take away the Razorbacks' wide game.

"They widened their defense to get pursuit," Broyles said. "Our option play was averaging seven to eight yards and our sweep was averaging nine yards a try. They had to stop those plays to stop Arkansas."

Broyles said the Razorbacks' defense continued to improve. "The thing that stands out in my mind is that the defense has given us great field position the last two weeks," he said. "If you score a lot of points when your defense has to be giving you great field position."

The Razorbacks have scored 90 points in their last two games.

Arkansas has an open date this Saturday and will play Wichita State Oct. 24.

Drabowsky, Marcelino Lopez and Dick Hall checked the Reds after they cuffed 24-game winner Mike Cuellar for four runs, the first three in the opening inning as a result of two Baltimore errors and the other on Bob Tolan's homer in the third.

Bench homered off Drabowsky in the sixth after the Orioles go-ahead five-run rally.

Brooks Robinson, non-pareil third baseman whose homer decided the opener after he made a spectacular rally to help quell a Cincinnati rally, took several more hits away from the Reds with his glove and singled home the tying run in the big fifth.

"I think the fact that we're down 2-0 and their No. 4 hitter is 0-for-9 shows the type of balance they have," said Reds' sparkplug Pete Rose, who has gone hitless in six trips to the plate.

"We don't have one big man on this club and that's what makes us tick," Frank Robinson explained. "When they stop one guy the others pick him up."

"And when we fall behind we don't get excited and we don't get down. We feel if we can get close enough we'll score when it counts and our pitchers will hold them."

That has been the pattern in both games as the Orioles short-circuited a Cincinnati team that was the scourge of the National League all year.

The Reds' frustrations peaked Saturday in the sixth inning when Bernie Carbo was called out at home by umpire Ken Burkhardt on a high chop fielded by Hendricks at the plate. Sequence photos later revealed that Hendricks did not make the tag, that Carbo failed to touch the plate and that Burkhardt, upended by the runner, was not in position to make the call.

There were no rhubarbs Sunday, but a guard was stationed near Burkhardt after the partisan Cincinnati fans greeted him with a barrage of jeers as he took his position along the right field foul line.

Ohio State, Notre Dame Post Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

If Ohio State is No. 1 in the college football world, then Notre Dame must be No. 1-A.

At least that's the opinion of Duffy Daugherty, whose Michigan State team bowed to top-ranked Ohio State 29-0 Saturday — the same score by which they lost the previous week to third-ranked Notre Dame.

"Notre Dame and Ohio State obviously are even," Daugherty said after Saturday's game. "They beat us by the same score. I thought Woody Hayes would go for two points after the last touchdown. I'll just have to consider them No. 1 and 1-A."

"That's equal, I guess," admitted Hayes, the Ohio State coach, adding: "We weren't pushing hard for our last touchdown just to match the Notre Dame score. I wouldn't quit on anybody unless we're up by at least 28 points. You don't quit on your own brother unless you're up by at least that much."

That final touchdown, his second of the game, came on a 25-yard run by John Brockington with less than five minutes left. Ron Maciejowski also scored twice for the Buckeyes, who led only 9-0 at the half.

Notre Dame, meanwhile, rolled to a 51-10 victory over Army, highest point total since the rivalry began in 1913. Joe Theismann passed for 277 yards and three touchdowns—two to Tom Gatewood—and scored once himself.

Where does all that leave Texas? Second, just where the Longhorns have been ranked all season in The Associated Press poll. They did nothing to detract from that ranking Saturday with a 41-9 trouncing of Oklahoma with six players scoring the touchdowns.

Coach Darrell Royal called it "probably our best game of the season," but it also was a costly one, split end Cotton Speyrer suffering a broken arm.

Oklahoma quarterback Jack Midren called the Longhorns "great competitors," and added: "I don't know if they're the best in the country. I've never seen Ohio State play. But I do know Texas is good. There aren't many teams who could have beaten them today."

On the West Coast, Jim Plunkett's passing and a sturdy defense that stopped Southern California twice inside the five-yard line enabled 12th-rated Stanford to upset the fourth-ranked Trojans 24-14.

Plunkett's 50-yard toss to Bob Moore opened the scoring and helped put a large dent in Southern Cal's hopes for a fifth consecutive Rose Bowl trip.

Mississippi's Archie Manning, rated a top Heisman Trophy candidate along with Plunkett, sparked the fifth-ranked Rebels to a come-from-behind 31-21 triumph over Georgia. Manning threw three scoring passes and tallied once himself.

Sixth-ranked Nebraska and No. 16 Missouri battled on even terms for three periods but the Cornhuskers drove 66 yards after a fumble recovery and downed the Tigers 21-7 in their key Big Eight clash.

Michigan, rated seventh, exploded for 23 points in the final period and trimmed Purdue 29-0 while eighth-ranked Air Force gave Tulane a taste of its football—24-3—and weather—rain, snow, wind and freezing temperatures.

Auburn, No. 9, visited Clemson's famed Death Valley and left the Tigers for dead 44-0 while 10-ranked Arkansas had an equally rough time with Baylor 41-7.

Duke gave 11th-ranked West Virginia some of its own medicine, out-gaining the Mountaineers on the ground 236-212 and outscoring them 21-13.

Arkansan Is Credited With 2 Oriole Wins

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson made an error on the first ground ball hit to him in the World Series, but since then he has been nothing but trouble for the Cincinnati Reds.

Manager Sparky Anderson of the Reds claims that the 33-year-old third baseman is the chief reason the Baltimore Orioles have taken a 2-0 lead on the best-of-seven series.

Brooks won Saturday's 4-3 opener with a seventh-inning homer. He contributed a run-producing single during Baltimore's winning five-run rally in the fifth inning of Sunday's 6-5 second-game victory.

But Anderson didn't even mention Robinson's bat when he said, "the guy at third base is the whole series story so far." Sparky was talking about the fielding plays.

In the opener, Robinson made a spectacular stop of Lee May's hard smash and threw him out while falling across the foul line. A walk and a single followed. They would have broken a 3-3 tie—had Robinson not stifled the threat before it started.

On Sunday Robinson again robbed May with a backhanded stop, starting a double play in the third inning after the Reds had gone ahead 4-0. In the sixth he tossed out Hal McRae after another neat stab.

Boog Powell, the Baltimore first baseman who has driven in four runs while hitting a homer in each game, says the plays Robinson treated the Cincinnati fans to thus far "are not spectacular but routine. We see him do that day in and day out."

Despite Robinson's heroics, the supposedly superior Baltimore fielders have committed four errors—to none by the Reds—and two of them in Sunday's first inning led to three unearned runs off Mike Cuellar. Bobby Tolan's homer made it 4-0 in the third.

The Orioles, who got good mileage from their well-stocked bench during the regular season, have used only one pinch-hitter in the series—and he

Bench Wants Red Wheels to Click

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — John Bench and Pete Rose, two of its most vital wheels, thinks it's about time the Big Red Machine reversed gears in the World Series.

Cincinnati lost 3-0 and 4-0 early leads in the first games of baseball's postseason classic here to carry a 2-0 deficit into Baltimore today for the third game Tuesday.

"Maybe we have to change our plan," said Bench, the Reds' superstar catcher whose bases-empty homer was wasted in a 6-5 loss to the Orioles Sunday.

"We'll have to hold 'em and score late," he said. "This has been a different Series as far as the Big Red Machine is concerned. We've been a late-inning club all year. Here we started early and lost it," Rose said.

"We've still got five games to win four," said the Reds' captain.

PROCLAMATION
I, Frank Douglas, Mayor of the City of Hope, do hereby proclaim the week of October 12, as "Bobcat Homecoming and Beat Arkadelphia Week." All citizens are hereby requested to speak only words of victory and of encouragement concerning the Hope High School Bobcats and the Homecoming Royalty.

Signed Frank Douglas
Mayor of Hope, Arkansas

Sparky Anderson will assign right-hander Tony Cloninger the starting pitching assignment for the third game. The Reds dropped the first two struggles in their own park and no team ever has come back to win the Series.

Anderson said he would use the same batting order as he did Sunday with one exception. He will use young Dave Concepcion at shortstop in place of veteran Woody Woodward.

Texas Win Proves to Be Costly

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer
Texas Tech assistant coaches Jack Fligg and John Conley can each take one bow compliments of head coach Jim Carlen. And the Tech offensive line gets a standing ovation.

The Raiders' offensive line, very suspect before the season started, never misfired Saturday in Tech's important 21-7 Southwest Conference football victory over Texas A&M.

"All the credit goes to my assistant coaches," Carlen said. "Coaches Fligg and Conley should get the credit for coaching the offensive linemen who did a good job."

Much of the talk preceding A&M coach Gene Stallings' post-game press conference centered on the Tech line.

"Did you see that Tech center," said one scribe. "He wasn't any bigger than me. But boy did he fire off that line."

"They all did," added another. When Stallings arrived, one of his first comments was: "They're offensive line really comes off the ball. It's a good (offensive line) one."

The victory was an important one for Tech because it evened the Raiders' SWC slate at 1-1. Another loss would have practically eliminated them from the SWC race. It was A&M's SWC opener.

In the big thriller at Dallas Saturday, No. 2 ranked Texas won 41-9 over Oklahoma in the traditional Cotton Bowl duel, but it cost the Longhorns their clutch receiver Cotton Speyrer, who was lost for the season with a broken arm.

In other games, Texas Christian continued to falter with a 34-20 loss to Oklahoma State;

Arkansas took a one-half game lead over Texas in the SWC with a 41-7 victory over Baylor. Rice and Southern Methodist took the weekend off to prepare for their SWC opener in the Cotton Bowl this week.

Texas A&M now faces the possibility of elimination from the SWC chase Saturday in a battle against TCU. Texas Tech plays at old nemesis Mississippi State and Texas and Arkansas take the week off.

The Raiders, rapidly gaining support as the up-and-comer in the league, left a definite impression on Stallings.

"I think it's pretty well understood that Texas and Arkansas are the top teams in the league," Stallings said. "And I think it's pretty well understood that Texas Tech is next behind them."

"They would compare favorably in my opinion with sixth ranked Michigan (which downed the Aggies 14-10.) They are both good football teams."

Carlen still isn't going overboard in his praise. He said: "We played pretty well, but we still had some breakdowns. We came out to do what we do best, and that is run, then if they stopped the run we would throw."

The loss of the slippery Speyrer definitely will have an effect on the Longhorns. It was Speyrer who made last second catches for victories over Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl last year and in the UCLA game last week.

"You don't lose a quality player like Cotton Speyrer and not be affected," Royal said. "I wish we'd won by a point and still had him."

Texas moved from a 14-3 halftime lead to turn the battle with Oklahoma into a rout.

Jim Bertelsen ran over from 9 yards out, tight end Deryl Comer scored on a 7-yard pass from quarterback Eddie Phillips, Phillips scored on a 10-yard run, Terry Collins bulled 13 yards for paydirt, Steve Wor-

A-State Wins Over Trinity; Harrell Hurt

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University quarterback James Hamilton crashed across the goal line from five yards out in the fourth quarter Saturday night to break a 14-14 tie and give the Indians a 21-14 victory over Southland Conference rival Trinity.

The final touchdown capped a 76-yard drive that took only five plays.

The Indians, ranked first in The Associated Press Small College football poll, were plagued by miscues for the second time this year. The Tribe lost four fumbles during the contest.

All-American tailback candidate Calvin Harrell, who gained 252 yards against The Citadel, was forced to leave the game in the first period with a knee injury.

Johnny Carr, Harrell's replacement, led the Indians in rushing with 123 yards on 22 carries. Carr, a 178-pound junior from DeWitt, also threw a 74-yard scoring pass to flanker ster ran three yards for a score and Steve Fleming crunched in from two yards out to cap the scoring.

Tech quarterback Charles Napper hit Johnny Odom on touchdown shots of 12 and 2 yards and Miles Langehenning hit from two yards out for Tech's other score. Steve Burks scored the Aggies lone touchdown.

Oklahoma State's sophomore quarterback Tony Pounds ran for one touchdown and passed for two more in the victory over the Horned Frogs. Danny Colbert's 89-yard punt return highlighted TCU's offensive performance.

Chet Douthit for ASU's second touchdown late in the first half.

Arkansas State's Kearney Blalock returned the opening kickoff 95-yards to give the Tribe a 7-0 lead, but Trinity bounced back in the first quarter on a 38-yard scoring pass from Mike Curry to Bill Hodge. A two-point conversion failed and the Indians led 7-6.

Carr flipped the 74-yard scoring loss to Douthit in the second period and ASU led 14-6 at the half.

Trinity took the second half kickoff and marched 78-yards for a TD then tied the game 14-14 on Ralph LeFlora's conversion.

Arkansas State is now 4-0 for the season and meets Louisiana Tech here Saturday.

The loss dropped Trinity's record to 2-3.

Southland Picture Just Same

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nothing's changed in the Southland Conference. Arkansas State is still as potent as ever.

The Indians used two long distance touchdowns to whip Trinity 21-14 in the conference opener Saturday. Kearney Blalock returned the opening kickoff 95 yards to put ASU ahead and a 74-yard bomb from tailback Johnny Carr to flanker Chet Douthit clinched things.

In other games, Lamar Tech tumbled 17-12 to McNeese State and Abilene Christian routed Eastern New Mexico 61-7.

Don Harr, ACC's tailback, scored three touchdowns and quarterback Jim Lindsey passed for two more.

In games this week, ACC is at Lamar Tech, Louisiana Tech is at Arkansas State; Southeast Louisiana is at Trinity, and Southwest Louisiana is at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Yarbrough Winner in Nat'l 500

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — LeeRoy Yarbrough, one of the most versatile drivers around, "put it all together" for the first time this season Sunday and won the rich National 500 stock car race at Charlotte.

"It was the first time this year that everything has worked right for us," said the winner of seven big speedway victories and a record $200,000 last year. "You wouldn't believe how close I came to disaster several times."

Yarbrough, 32, almost didn't get this one. He had been a contender from the start of the $145,000 fall classic at the 1.5-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway, but didn't really make his move toward the front of the 40-car pack until about 200 miles from the finish.

By that time, such favorites as Richard Petty and Pete Hamilton, the hottest team on the NASCAR Grand National circuit all season, had wrecked their Plymouths and trouble had struck down some of the other contenders.

Yarbrough, who was paid $23,705 for his first 1970 triumph had led twice in the early going, and had never run worse than sixth place. But when Hamilton wrecked while running in first place on the 227th of the 334 laps, Yarbrough was there to take over the lead.

With 23 laps to go, he was in real trouble. The day's sixth yellow light blinked when the car of Joe Frasson of Golden Valley, Mich., dropped oil in the third turn. After the field had slowed, Yarbrough ducked into his pit for fuel.

When he came back to the track, Bobby Allison was in the lead in a Dodge and Bobby Isaac had moved into second in another of the winged Dodges. Yarbrough was in third place but running on the heels of the other two cars.

His break came three laps later. Isaac sped around Allison to take over the lead and pulled Yarbrough around with him into the runner-up spot. Minutes later, however, Isaac's engine blew, giving Yarbrough the lead with only 11 laps remaining.

Allison held on for second place, worth $10,980, while Fred Lorenzen took third in a Dodge and was paid $6,430. Fourth went to Benny Parsons in a Ford. Isaac was credited with fifth place and practically assured himself the NASCAR driving title worth a bonus of $75,000 at season's end.

Yarbrough's average speed was 126.246 miles per hour, but it would have been 30 miles higher except for the eight caution flags. He led five times for a total of 112 laps, most of any driver.

There were two major wrecks. The first took out the Ford of three-time Grand National champion David Pearson and the Mercury of Cale Yarbrough. The second demolished the cars of Dr. Don Tarr, James Hylton and Jim Vandiver. There were no injuries however.

Bruins Step Along Way for NHL Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins are one step along the way towards another Stanley Cup championship in the National Hockey League.

The Bruins opened defense of their title with a 7-3 victory over Detroit Sunday night as Don Marcotte slapped home two goals within 64 seconds in the third period.

Montreal shaded Philadelphia 2-1, Chicago whipped Oakland 5-1 and Vancouver downed Toronto 5-3 in other games on the first Sunday of the new season.

Bill Collins' goal at 9:43 of the last period proved to be the winner for Montreal against Philadelphia.

Bobby Hull and Bryan Campbell each tallied a goal and two assists in pacing the Chicago Black Hawks over Oakland.

Two goals by Wayne Maki led Vancouver's expansion Canucks over Toronto before a sellout 15,542 crowd in the Canadian Far West city.

Oswald: "In the first days of contract, all raises were limit bids. The jump from one to three invited four strongly, but it wasn't a forcing bid. Then the pendulum swung the other way and all jumps from one to three became game forcing bids."

Jim: "By the time I started to learn bridge in 1950, some single-jump raises had been dropped out of the forcing category. The trouble was that everyone had his own group of forces and nonforces. It was most confusing."

Oswald: "It is today, also. In standard American, they still play forcing jump raises or at least play most jump raises as forcing. Every day or so, more and more good players have shifted back to first principles and play all single jump raises as limit bids—strong but not absolutely forcing."

Jim: "In JACOBY MODERN, all raises are limit raises. The world's champion Dallas Aces, of which I am a member, play limit raises. So do most of the top players. They are simple to play and very effective."

Oswald: "The thing to remember when you play JACOBY MODERN limit raises is that the single-jump raise shows a good hand. Partner wants you to continue to game and you should do so with anything more than a bare minimum."

Jim: "Today's game contract is reached after a limit raise by North. South has only 12 high-card points for his opening bid but the singleton is worth two points additional and the jump raise has helped him. He goes on to game cheerfully."

Oswald: "A king of diamonds lead and diamond continuation would beat the contract but West has a normal heart lead. After that, South just draws trumps and concedes two diamonds and a club."

Boudrias helped the new NHL team open a 4-0 bulge and withstand the Maple Leafs closing surge.

The Bruins lost superstar Bobby Orr midway in the second period against Detroit. The League's No. 1 scorer last year suffered a charley horse in his leg after a collision with Frank Mahovlich.

Before the game the Bruins announced that center Derek Sanderson had ended his hold-out and signed a contract. Derek had been asking $40,000 but no terms of the contract were made public. He did not play against the Red Wings.

Nixon to Connecticut Campaigning

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, on the latest leg of his effort to bring about Republican gains in the off-year election, headed today for Connecticut, scene of a potentially crucial Senate contest.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were bound for Hartford, the state capital, and a noon hour motorcade into the city where the chief executive planned a closed-door briefing for newspaper and broadcast executives from states ranging from Virginia to Maine.

Afterwards, Nixon and the First Lady were to entertain the news media representatives at a buffet.

The President, whose travels will pick up speed in the final three weeks of the off-year election campaign, also scheduled an appearance at Stamford, Conn., to dedicate an Italian-American community center on this Columbus Day.

All along his route through Connecticut, Nixon lined up Republican candidates to appear prominently with him.

Foremost among them was GOP Rep. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., candidate for the Senate seat of Democrat Thomas Dodd, who is running as an independent. Also in the race is the Democratic primary winner, the Rev. Joseph D. Duffey.

Duffey is national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action.

Republican House members and mayors who might benefit from the Nixon coattails also were assigned slots in the Connecticut welcome for the President.

Nixon had planned to fly directly from his winter home in Key Biscayne, Fla., to Connecticut, but in a switch of plans, announced Sunday afternoon he was making an overnight stop at the White House.

A White House spokesman said the chief executive, who was not scheduled to leave Washington until late morning, wanted to be in his oval office early in the day to attend to unannounced business.

Hempstead Accident Rate Highest

Traffic accidents during September claimed 64 lives according to the Arkansas State Police. The deaths occurred in 57 fatal accidents. This was 8 more deaths than were recorded in September of 1969 and brings the states death toll for the first nine months of 1970 to 446 deaths.

Captain Milton Mosier District Commander of the Hope District for the State Police said State Police officials were concerned at the recent rise in traffic accidents. He said enforcement and education activities would be greatly intensified during the remainder of 1970 in an effort to hold the line on traffic deaths and injuries.

Mosier said 2 of the 64 deaths in September were recorded in the 9 counties comprising the Hope District. Counties recording deaths were Miller and Sevier 1 each. The remaining 7 counties were free of traffic fatalities during the 30 day period.

Statewide Troopers investigated 969 accidents with the highest accident rate for the 30 day period in the Hope District, recording 20 accidents. Other counties to record accidents were Little River with 13 accidents, Howard 12, Lafayette 11, Clark 10, Pike 8, Nevada 7, Miller and Sevier 6 accidents each.

Mosier said troopers cited excessive speed, failure to yield the right of way, inattention and drinking as the leading causes of accidents in the Hope District during September.

Mosier urged motorists to adjust their driving as fall weather approaches. Shorter daylight hours and wet pavement greatly increases the chances of accidents occurring. This calls for reduced speeds and caution on the part of all drivers Mosier said.

Rights Group Charges Government Failed to Live Up to Promises

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has failed to live up to its own promises on civil rights, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights said in a landmark study today. It laid ultimate responsibility on "the quality of leadership exercised by the president."

Assistant Commission Staff Director Martin E. Sloane said the remark was not aimed specifically at President Nixon, but at "every president.... We've never had any period in the past when civil rights was enforced at any particularly good level."

In a 1,115-page report the size of the Manhattan telephone directory, the commission said minority groups still run into an

U.S. Building Is Bombed At Rochester

By DON WATERS
Associated Press Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A federal office building, the Monroe County office building, two churches and a private home were hit by bomb explosions within a 25-minute period early today.

These were the fifth and sixth government buildings in the country to have been struck by such blasts since Thursday.

The explosion against a sub-basement window at the four-story county building twisted heating ducts, ruptured water pipes and knocked out windows and some chunks of concrete from the wall. County officials estimated damage at $100,000 in the granite building.

One man was cut by flying glass but no serious injuries were reported.

The storefront churches—the New Bethel C.M.E. Church and the Greater Bethlehem Pentecostal Church—and the government buildings are in the city core. The private home, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. William Harkin, is several miles away in northwestern Rochester.

All of the blasts occurred outside the buildings as, police said, sticks of dynamite were either thrown or placed next to them by persons who then sped off by car.

The radical Weatherman group has announced a "fall offensive" to "attack the enemy around the country." But there was no immediate indication of who might have been responsible for the Rochester bombings.

U.S. Court Begins a Hearing on Pace of School Desegregation

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court began a two-day hearing today on the pace of public school desegregation in three key Southern districts as a first step toward a fresh definition of the constitutional rights of black children and the obligations of school boards.

All major aspects of the desegregation problem, including massive busing, racial balancing and desegregation of neighborhoods, are in the test cases from Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C.; Mobile County, Ala.; and Clarke County, Ga.

Civil rights lawyers and the black families they represent are demanding a decision that finally insures "all black school children their right to a desegregated education."

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg and Mobile school boards, defending the moves they have already made, want minimal busing, preservation of the neighborhood school system and continuation of a number of all-black and all-white schools in their districts.

equality gap in dealing with the federal government on a variety of levels, from hiring to housing and contract compliance and regulatory agencies.

The commission called generally for much tighter surveillance of the government's performance, with more money and manpower spent on enforcement of existing laws and orders.

"The great promise of the civil rights laws, executive orders, and judicial decisions of the 1950s and 1960s has not been realized," the report said.

Part of the blame was placed on government civil rights enforcement programs the commission said have been almost uniformly stuck with second class status—too few staff, too little money, and not enough authority.

Strong remedial measures were called for, including a kind of civil service Philadelphia Plan, with deadlines to meet specific minority hiring goals, to "achieve equitable minority group representation at all wage and grade levels within each department and agency."

The study, largest ever done by the six-member commission and its staff, examined more than 40 federal agencies and programs to "try to pinpoint the status of civil rights enforcement in just about the entire federal government," Sloane said.

There was no immediate comment from the White House. But sources close to the administration called the report "very comprehensive and quite constructive," and said it would get "a lot of careful study," and "a lot of attention."

The commission criticized a wide range of federal departments and agencies, although crediting some with "marked successes."

Still, the commission said, it found "a number of fundamental weaknesses and inadequacies in civil rights compliance and enforcement that are common to most agencies...."

These included, in addition to inadequate staff and funding: "Undue emphasis on voluntary compliance and failure to make sufficient use of available sanctions...."

"Undue emphasis on a passive role, such as reliance on receipt of complaints...."

Agencies that don't cooperate with others working in the same field.

"Failure to collect and utilize racial and ethnic data," and failure to consider civil rights enforcement as part of carrying

Terrorists Say Diplomat Still Alive

MONTREAL (AP) — The Quebec Liberation Front offered today to send a mediator to meet with government officials to work out terms for the release of a British diplomat and a Quebec Province official kidnapped last week.

The offer was made in communiques from the two Front cells that kidnapped James Richard Cross, Britain's trade envoy here, and Labor Minister Pierre Laporte of Quebec. The communiques said both men were in good health.

In an earlier communique, the Front said the men's freedom could be obtained if two of seven original demands are met by the government.

Both communiques reached the French-language radio stations CKLM and CKAC in Montreal.

Both suggested that Montreal lawyer Robert Lemieux serve as mediator to work out terms for the release of Cross, kidnapped a week ago, and Laporte abducted Saturday night.

The earlier communique set no new deadline on the two men's lives and the language was considered to be more conciliatory than any since the kidnappings began.

Elimination of Draft by '73 Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today the Pentagon hopes to eliminate draft calls by mid-1973. He also disclosed that President Nixon will announce this week further U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

Laird said at a news conference he has set the end of fiscal year 1973 as the goal for moving to a zero draft under which men over 18 would still register but would not be called. The Selective Service system would remain in effect for use in emergencies, he said.

"We're going to go all out, all out in the Department of Defense to reach the target of zero draft calls by the end of fiscal 1973," Laird declared.

In a memorandum issued today by Laird to the secretaries of the military services and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, he directed them to review personally the recommendations outlined by the Pentagon's Project Volunteer Committee for eliminating draft calls.

He said he expected Nixon to announce an interim troop withdrawal figure this week that would carry the withdrawal program through Christmas.

Four Killed in Traffic Accidents

Four persons died in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways during the weekend. All were killed Saturday.

Sam McDaniel, 73, and Walker Templeton, 80, both of Atkins, were killed when the car in which they were riding was struck by a Missouri Pacific freight train about six miles north of Morrilton.

A. L. Perkins, 76, of Little Rock, the driver of the car, was injured, police said.

Buford W. Carrington, 50, of Cabot was killed in a two-car crash on U.S. 67 near Jacksonville. Five others were injured.

Lance Watson, 59, of Lake Village was killed when struck by a car on U.S. 82 Saturday night near Lake Village.

Failure of Talks Could Up Spending

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The failure of U.S.-Soviet arms control talks and other negotiations could lead to a major boost in American military spending within a year, according to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

The warning came Sunday in a joint appearance of Laird with Secretary of State William P. Rogers in which the two administration leaders took a two-handed, firm-hard approach to recent Soviet attacks on U.S. peace proposals for Indochina and the Middle East.

Laird's defense spending remark exemplified the hard approach. "Unless we have success in SALT (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks) and these other negotiating areas," he said, "we are going to have to face up to some hard, tough decisions here which could require a tremendous increase as far as defense expenditures are concerned."

Laird said as a matter of fact some new arms programs have been held up pending the outcome of the SALT talks being conducted in Vienna.

When asked how long the United States could afford such a delay, Laird responded: "I don't believe from the standpoint of a defense planner we can delay these decisions more than 12 months."

Rogers took a slightly softer approach to Soviet intentions when he said recent statements from Moscow attacking U.S. peace proposals in the Mideast and Indochina may be public window dressing.

"The public position they take in the press doesn't necessarily coincide with the official attitude," the nation's top diplomat said. "It's certainly disappointing, but I hope in private discussions they'll act differently."

Rogers and Laird appeared in a special hour-long version of ABC's "Issues and Answers."

When asked about a recent Soviet press description of President Nixon's five-point Indochina peace plan as "a great fraud," Rogers said it "is standard Communist propaganda, which we expected...."

"I have a feeling that the Soviet Union and Hanoi will both give very careful consideration to the President's proposal because of the tremendous support that the proposals have received not only in this country but all over the world."

But Laird, expressing the on-the-other-hand approach that often marked the appearance, declined "to make any prediction as to the outcome" of the U.S. peace drive.

The secretary of state also seemed willing to give Moscow more of the benefit of a doubt concerning the recent hardened Soviet position on the Mideast peace plan being pushed by the United States.

He said the official Soviet refusal to accept the U.S. peace drive.

Gurdon Man Is Beaten to Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Clarence Jones, 40, of Wheeling Springs (Clark County) was listed in satisfactory condition Sunday at the University of Arkansas Medical Center here following an apparent beating at Gurdon Friday.

Sheriff W. A. Wingfield said that Lee Mauldin Jr., 46, had been beaten to death and his body run over by some type of vehicle Friday. He said Jones has also been beaten, but he did not know if Jones had also been struck by a vehicle.

The men were found lying in the middle of a street in a predominantly Negro section of Gurdon shortly before midnight Friday. Jones' truck was parked nearby, but police said there was no indication that the truck had been in an accident.

Mauldin was a radio and television repairman and Jones is a contractor.

Army Claims Timetable Standoff for Troop Reduction Ahead of Schedule

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today it is running several days ahead of President Nixon's timetable for reduction of American forces in Vietnam.

A spokesman said American military strength in the country has dropped below the 384,000-man ceiling that Nixon ordered reached by Thursday. He said precise figures were not yet available but would be announced next Monday.

Since Nixon announced the first American troop withdrawals from Vietnam in June 1969, U.S. strength has been reduced about 160,000 men from a peak of 543,400 in April 1969. The President has announced that total American troops will be reduced another 100,000 during the next six months, trimming U.S. strength to less than 284,000 by next May 1.

Sources in Saigon have hinted that this may be accelerated and more than 100,000 men may

Conviction for Murder Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today the second-degree murder conviction of William A. Mayfield Jr. in the slaying of Sheriff Orval Bishop of Carroll County.

Bishop was shot to death July 14, 1969, in Green Forest while investigating a domestic disturbance involving Mayfield and the defendant's wife, Clarice.

Mayfield had been charged with first-degree murder. The jury returned the verdict on the lesser charge but could not agree on punishment. Circuit Judge W. H. Enfield sentenced Mayfield to 15 years in prison.

The Supreme Court denied Mayfield's request that the verdict be thrown out on grounds women were excluded from the jury. The high court said that under Arkansas law women may be excused from jury duty on their own "caprice or whim."

The high court also rejected three other points cited for reversal.

The high court also upheld the

The UCCA discussed legal steps to make "alterations in the Supreme Court" by limiting the high court's appellate jurisdiction and attempts to limit the jurisdiction of federal judges in school matters.

Develops in Middle East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another standoff has developed in the Middle East over extension of the 90-day cease-fire along the Suez Canal.

Egypt said Sunday it would not extend the truce beyond its Nov. 5 expiration date unless Israel rejoins the peace talks at the United Nations. Israel repeated it would not resume negotiations until Egypt pulls back the anti-aircraft missiles which Israel and the United States charge have been moved closer to the canal in violation of the cease-fire standstill.

An aide to Egypt's foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, said Cairo's position did not mean "that Nov. 5 we are going to start shooting."

But he said that if Israel does not rejoin the talks begun under U.N. special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring, then the cease-fire is a commitment "we want to liberate ourselves from. That's all."

Israeli Premier Golda Meir told her weekly cabinet meeting Israel wants the cease-fire to continue, but it will not return to the talks until "the Egyptians and Russians take steps to restore the original position in the Canal standstill zone."

An Israeli public opinion poll showed 70 per cent of 500 persons queried favored suspension of the talks until Egypt pulls back the missiles; 23 per cent favored resumption of the talks despite the missiles, and 7 per cent had no opinion.

Meanwhile, Egypt's only legal political party, the Arab Socialist Union, began rallies to whip up enthusiasm for President-designate Anwar Sadat, who has been nominated by the party to succeed Gamal Abdel Nasser, confirmed by the National Assembly and will be elected in a plebiscite Thursday. The purpose of the rallies is to get a big turnout to demonstrate Egyptian solidarity in the wake of Nasser's death.

Church Deal Ties Group in Knots

By ROBERT A. HUNT

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Cooper-Church amendment to outlaw U.S. military operations in Cambodia has tied House-

Senate conferees in knots for three months and cast a shadow over a $250 million foreign military credit sales program.

Congressional sources see only a slight possibility of breaking the impasse, although at least one refuses to rule out agreement during the waning days of this session.

The amendment is attached to the Senate's version of the foreign military credit sales bill, passed in widely-varying form by both houses and sent to a sharply divided conference committee in early July.

There have been only six sessions held in the intervening three months, just one of those since Congress returned from a

3½-week recess early last month.

And now Congress is getting ready for another recess beginning Wednesday for the approaching elections.

Then the first "lame-duck"

session in 20 years begins Nov.

Meanwhile, the program under which U.S. weapons and other military equipment is sold to foreign nations on credit or under guarantees is stalled.

There has been no money since

January because Congress didn't extend the basic authority for the program last year either. However, cash sales, which make up the bulk of the nearly $2 billion program, are

"Many of these weaknesses

ed problems," the commission said, "problems of hostile bureaucracies that view civil rights as a threat to their pre-

.....rogatives and programs, problems of inadequate or misordered priorities..."

The Leadership Conference on

Guiding Light

11-12 Civil Rights, which got advance copies of the report, issued a statement commending the commission and strongly endorsing its recommendations.

The conference said the government "must act at once to correct the shameful conditions

the report delineates," and pledged its full cooperation, adding that its 127 member organizations should "do all in their power" to rally their members behind a national campaign to strengthen civil rights enforcement.

Most of the report contained specific criticisms, including one aimed at the attorney general, "the most important single

rights program."

He should require the Justice Department to "develop a broad perspective and set an example of imaginative and vigorous enforcement of civil rights laws," the commission

Poindexter has been employed with Palmer Media Group for the past eight years and has been in the cable television division since March 1967 as Director of Public Relations. He is a former Advertising Manager of the Camden News, a Palmer Media Group newspaper.

A native of Gladewater, Texas, Poindexter has lived for the past 23 years with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Poindexter, at Ogemaw.

Justice's civil rights division has been "consistently understaffed," the report said, and went on to complain that even at the White House "there is still no systematic effort to evaluate the enforcement activities of federal agencies."

COPE Gives Support to Democrats

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — After meeting with the three gubernatorial candidates here Saturday the state AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) gave the Democrats the nod.

COPE endorsed Dale Bumpers for governor; Dr. Bob Riley for lieutenant governor; Ray Thornton for attorney general;

Kelly Bryant for secretary of state and Donald Poe for congressman from the 3rd Congressional District. Poe opposes Rep. John Paul Hammer-schmidt, R-Ark.

The committee took the action after hearing speeches by Republican Gov. Winthron Rockefeller, American Party's Walter Carruth and Bumpers.

COPE did not take a stand on the proposed new constitution, saying that it had both good and bad points.

Bumpers told the members, "I've been asked by many people if I am pro labor, let me tell you now that I am pro people. I am actively soliciting the votes of all the people."

Bumpers said the Democratic party represented the best interests of all the people.

Rockefeller made a pitch for the two-party system in Arkansas.

"By the most factual yardstick you want to apply — new jobs, new housing, new schools, new commercial activity — the parts of Arkansas that are enjoying the greatest growth are those that have welcomed the two-party system," Rockefeller said.
